CME Information

OBJECTIVES: At the completion of this conference participants will be able to:

1. improve management of amblyopia and strabismus
2. accurately diagnose pediatric neuro-ophthalmic conditions
3. counsel aging patients about refractive surgery
4. optimally manage complicated cataracts and surgical complications
5. choose the best management for individual glaucoma patients
6. recognize when systemic immunosuppression is indicated in uveitis

7. incorporate the results of recent trials in diabetic macular edema and branch vein occlusions into clinical practice
8. appraise changing practices in retinal laser therapy and management of AMD
9. recognize how ocular aging affects health and longevity

PHYSICIANS: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of the KU Medical Center Office of Continuing Medical Education and Kansas Society of Eye Physicians and Surgeons. The KU Medical Center Office of Continuing Medical Education is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The KU Medical Center Office of Continuing Medical Education designates this educational activity for a maximum of 7.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
